Drink Well. Do Good.

It's our ambition to ensure our beverages make a positive impact with every drink, and our Corporate Responsibility approach comes to life through Drink Well. Do Good. Our work is centered on four areas where we believe we can drive the most value and impact as KDP: Environment; Supply Chain; Health and Wellbeing, and Communities. We've established a unified set of ambitious Corporate Responsibility goals that reflect our initial commitments as a Company and our vision for the future. To learn more about all of our goals and efforts, visit our Corporate Responsibility section of our corporate website here (<https://www.keurigdrpepper.ca/en-ca/our-company/corporate-responsibility>).

KDP Coffee Source Trips

Each year, approximately 60 teammates participate in our KDP Coffee Source Trips to coffee-origin countries – such as Brazil and Colombia – to connect with the people and places where our coffee is grown. These aren't just coffee buyers or tasters – they're team members from any department and location where we operate.

This unique experience infuses all areas of the Company with respect and love for our coffee products, the people who produce them, and places they live. Our participants have the opportunity to meet the families who grow our coffee, understand what they do, and witness the impact of our work and relationships at the source. This program is a great opportunity to foster our coffee education and build functional expertise. It's more than coffee... it's an experience of a lifetime!

* Full-time KDP employees become eligible to participate in Coffee Source Trips after three years of service.
