Retirement!

The Leap into the Uncharted Abyss!

More questions than answers: Do I have enough money? What am I going to do with all the extra time? Will I be bored?

The decision of “if and when to retire” is one that almost everyone faces with a certain amount of caution, curiosity and fear. It is not unusual or unhealthy to feel this angst for it represents the passage from one to another of life’s three major segments: childhood, productive adulthood, and retirement. Like all of life’s important decisions, it deserves attention and some expenditure of time and energy to attempt to make the best decision for oneself and one’s loved ones. Fortunately, many have gone before you and have left behind a history of lessons learned that may make your decision process easier.

When TSRA was first formed, its focus was primarily on the needs of colleagues who were retired. Over the years, TSRA grew in its awareness that the process of retirement was not one that properly started a couple of months before “the big announcement,” but rather one that had its beginnings years before. For this reason, in recent years TSRA has expanded its mission and membership to also serve the “pre-retirees” at TSC and to encourage anyone contemplating retirement to begin planning for their future retirement.

One of the products TSRA has developed in this mission is a document containing a list of essential questions that we believe everyone retiring should ask themselves and a roadmap of actions that will help the pre-retiree develop a plan for his or her retirement years.

This document, developed by the Chairpersons of the TSRA Retirement Benefits committee, is enclosed for your benefit. We trust you will find it informative and helpful.

Get ready for “the best time of your life!”

Getting Ready To Retire From Textron Systems

Background:

This guide was developed by Textron Systems Retirees Association (TSRA) Retirees Benefit Affairs Committee (RBAC) to provide a transition aid to the pre-retiree of Textron Systems in the retirement process.

Key elements of this guideline are color coded in Green, Blue or Red to highlight the varying specifics based upon an employee's personal data and employment history with Systems Division of Textron Corporation.

Key to the Color Code:

Green – Data you should gather before you contact a coordinator at HR Textron/Fidelity Service Center.

Blue – Data that is based upon one's employment history, one's marital status and/or beneficiary and may not be applicable to every employee.

Red – Data that you may need to gather for additional information.

Getting Started:

This guide will prepare you for completing the required pension benefit forms once received from the Fidelity Benefits Service Center. It will prompt you to gather specific information in order to be proactive with your transition to retirement.

A little work and preparation now may save countless iteration with your benefits coordinator and could make the retirement process easier, faster and relatively painless.

1. Am I Eligible?

You become eligible to participate in the Textron Retirement Plan when you begin receiving compensation through Textron employment that is covered by the Plan and you are or have been working for 1,000 paid/compensated hours or more per year.

On January 1st, 2007 Textron Corporation revised the early and normal retirement rules that apply to your benefit under the Textron Retirement Program (TRP). Under this new plan there are differences that need to be considered before taking the next step forward, namely, those benefits earned prior to 2007 under the Textron Master Retirement Plan (TMRP).

Please review your current TRP as well as the TMRP if you are contemplating early or normal retirement.

2. Your Current Benefit of the Textron Retirement Plans

If you have not visited the Fidelity Benefits Service Center website to review your current Retirement Benefit, please do so before continuing. Fidelity's website is:

www.netbenefits.fidelity.com

To visit this site you will need credential codes, usually referred to as a Customer Identification (ID) and PIN. Credential codes should have been established by you when Textron engaged Fidelity as its HR agent.

If you have lost your credential codes to enter the system, please call the Fidelity Benefits Service Center @1.866.698.9847. Fidelity will then reset and request that you generate a new PIN. The process is easy and will take less time than you think to complete.

Guard your Customer Identification and PIN with the utmost security.

It is suggested that your ID and PIN codes be changed from time to time.

3. Pension Benefit Commencement Date

The benefit commencement date is generally the date of retirement or the date you are electing to commence your pension benefit.

You should begin to prepare for retirement 180 calendar days before you actually wish to receive your pension benefit. During this time you need to address and confirm the following:

- that you are vested in your pension plan (refer to item 1)
- it is within 180 calendar days of your benefit commencement date
- that you meet all the requirements of your plans participation criteria

You should also view your current pension benefit options on Fidelity's website:

and make a copy for your records. The figures that will appear on your screen will be less than your final pension benefit for every option available to you, but will give you a quick snapshot of what you may expect when you set the final date of commencement and select your benefit payment option. The rationale for differences in your pension benefit as viewed on the screen versus when received is due to the actual commencement date of your pension benefit.

4. Were you employed by AVCO Corporation prior to the Textron merger?

The following possible additional benefit is only available to former AVCO employees:

If you were an employee of AVCO Corporation prior to November 1983, you may have an additional retirement benefit as well as federal tax exclusion or offset for some portion of that benefit if:

- all your prior contributions to the AVCO Retirement Plan remained in that plan, and
- none of your contributions were rolled over to the Incentive Savings Plan (ISP) then available to those AVCO employees.

OR

You may take a one time lump sum payment for all your prior contributions plus interest to the AVCO plan or leave all contributions and interest within the TMRP plan. If you request to receive a lump sum distribution of all your prior contributions and interest, your combined portion of the AVCO retirement benefit will be less.

Additionally, there will be a tax liability in the year that you withdraw the funds for all prior AVCO Corp's retirement contributions and interest earned.

If you opt to leave your contributions within the plan, your monthly pension will be greater and a portion of the benefit could be non-taxable as well.

It is suggested that you consult your personal financial advisor or tax attorney before making this very important decision.

5. What are my Pension Options/Beneficiaries?

There are many options that you need to consider when determining your Pension Payment Option selection. If you are married, you need to discuss the payment options with your spouse and even possibly your financial planner or tax attorney to determine the option that best fits your current as well as future financial picture.

Please note, that you will not be permitted to change your Pension Payment Option once your pension payments commence.

Listed below are the current plan options available within the Textron Retirement Program Plan:

- Single Life Annuity: 100% to the Employee ONLY. Please review for any current updates regarding minimum payout periods for employees choosing this form of payment with your Fidelity Benefits Service Center Coordinator.
- Joint and 50% Survivor Annuity: 50% to the Employee and 50% to his or her Beneficiary

- Joint and 100% Contingent Annuity: 100% to the Employee 100% and 100% to his or her Beneficiary

OR

- If you were a prior employee at AVCO Corporation you may select another option available identified as:
 - a) Year Certain and Continuous Portion to the Employee and to his or her beneficiary
 - b) Residual Benefit Payment Option to Employee

Please consult your Textron Retirement Program Plan and your coordinator at the Fidelity Benefits Service Center if you wish additional information about this feature.

7. If I Retire Before Age 65 will My Pension be Reduced?

Yes. The amount of your Pension will be permanently reduced. Consult your Textron Retirement Program Plan for complete details. At the time of this writing there was a 5% reduction in benefits for each year by which your age when your benefit starts is less than 65. However, you may be able to commence an unreduced pension benefit prior to the normal date of 65 based on certain age and service requirements. Be aware once you elect to receive your retirement pension there are NO yearly cost-of-living adjustments.

8. Is My Retirement Pension Benefit Taxable?

Generally yes. Pension payments from the Textron Retirement Program Plan are considered taxable income by both your state and the IRS in the year you receive the benefit.
