

DEALS EVERYONE CAN SAY WOW TO

Discounts and Employee Exclusives

Deals everyone can say WOW to

We offer one of the largest platforms for discount shopping, earn “WOW” points, and access employee exclusives to our own products and services.

Log onto www.perksatwork.com and enjoy discounted shopping from major retailers like Apple, Macy’s, Orbitz, Under Armour and more. When you make a purchase off of the Perks at Work site – you not only are taking advantage of discounted pricing – but in addition you are earning what are called “Wow points”. These points can be redeemed as cash credits against future purchases off the site. This would be in addition to whatever rewards program your credit card company may provide you as well.

The site is broken up into categories based on what you might be looking for. The section noted as “Exclusives” are discounts available only to employees of News Corp. These include discounts to our own internal products like WSJ Wine, the New York Post, or Harper Collins books. But they also include discounts to a variety of other vendors who have provided us with a discounted rate to their products.

If you are interested specifically in car rental deals – please note we have a whole range of deals that are located here .

The businesses that participate in the Perks at Work program have agreed to provide discounts to employees of certain employers, including News Corp. Although the Perks at Work website may refer to those businesses as partners, News Corp is not affiliated with any of those businesses (except HarperCollins) and is not responsible for and does not guarantee the products or services purchased through the Perks at Work program.

Tags: Perks Points Shopping Discounts

Was this Helpful?