"My family hadn't used telemedicine in the past, so like many, I enrolled and forgot about it. As a father of three active daughters, we were in need to do an at-home volleyball tournament when from the 3rd row of the bleachers, our youngest got us know her eye was hurting. One glance in the rear-view and we recognized the common childhood ailment from the road, she called 'teledoc' described the symptoms and sent a photo. Within half an hour, she received a call asking for our prescription refills by the time we got home. Our daughter's prescription was waiting for us at a nearby pharmacy. The convenience was incredible. Based on that experience, we tend to use 'teledoc' on our first line of defense, reporting to office visits when the circumstances require."
